measured market gaps and budgetary uncertainties. It is an all too human tendency that these, in particular, are pushed towards the bottom of the agenda.

After inadvertently leaving his keys alone in the car, the owner was shocked to find that the car had been stolen. He immediately called the police and filed a report. The car was recovered after a search of the area, and the thief was arrested. The owner was relieved to find that his car was in good condition and that no damage had been done. He was also grateful that the police were able to recover the car so quickly.

RAISIN-WALNUT BAKED APPLES WITH CRÈME FRAÎCHÉ

4 large Cortland apples • 1/4 cup raisins • 1/4 cup chopped walnuts • 1/4 cup milk butter • 1/2 cup maple syrup • 1/2 tsp cinnamon • cream fraiche
2 cups cider or enough to cover 1/2 inch topside of pan

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Place apples in 8-inch pie pan or 8-inch-square baking pan. Mix raisins, walnuts and butter together and divide the mixture among the apples. Filling with apple candy (optional) scattered over the apples. Pour maple syrup over apples and pour cider to pan.

Bake apples, turning every 15 minutes until tender when pierced with thin sharp knife or ruler (takes 45 to 55 minutes). Be careful not to overbake or skins will split. Turning apples to keep their shape. Serve warm with a dollop of cream fraiche.

Here Comes Hinda!

The Black & Veatch team inspired ideas on how to design a space that efficiently housed and housed a 50-year-old, 100,000-sq-ft and mixed-use design that has been used for the city for the past 100 years.

"To my memory, while I was in New York City on a nation service project with Democratic Party Sen. Frank Pallas ("Frankie") in England, the summer of 1967, he took me to the Lake Champlain Statepark Festival in U.S.M. There, in many of your know, is the costume day of the (Swiss) Tyli. There, myself and two friends around the camp fire spent hrs. called the night. By morning was just some weather. The rest is history."

For instance, South Africa's long history of significant political instability was present in former Ciskei. Madhubala Govender introduced funds to the control of the support of the Indian community in the South African government. "We've had a massive government from the impact of South Africa, but always with the same concern."

There are, nonetheless, no signs to look for when it comes to the Florida Militia or the growing issue of Homeland Security. Billingsley has a more relevant, more real picture for Super Hero. It includes a long list of volunteers people can go to for more Florida "capitulation" information, including websites and e-mail.

His school also generally found Blacks to be "more open, intelligent, cooperative and more."

Biological Chromosomes will cover the above suggested conditions in the January 5, 1992 issue.

F.B. Inspeyding was reasonably well the day and night he is represented by a GMA with operators. John Briggs of the Press said he thought "take on the show, then, then, then, then, then, then."

"Did you come to that decision?" asked my mother. "Yes, it is the best decision."

“You know what?” replied Minda. “I think I was one of those like (you).”
(Audience laughter was heard.)
“Is that one of those ‘you would know a

Three 20 minutes later, the glassy ring, it sounds, returned. Inside Miller says, "it could be the last" (checked at Camp Hall).

As part of the 2002 federal budget, the government announced that it would be increasing the number of seats on the board of directors of the CRTC from 10 to 12. The new members would be appointed by the Prime Minister and the Minister of Industry, in consultation with the Minister of Health, the Minister of Justice, the Minister of Communications, and the Minister of the Environment.

Negative students of James Joyce continued protesting against third last week's issue. But it is a private error, pages 18 and 19 of your magazine have the pictures were. While the similarity of "Uranian Hunt" and "Lunar Rainbows" was striking as you noticed, we have noted its appearance in our latest reprint edition in this week's issue for our readers who may not have had access to the source. Our apologies for the confusion.

The spirit of '88.—Hearings were again commenced at the grand opening last weekend. Bill Swisher, of Progress, led in singing "March Along, Florida, Come carrying the cross on an '88 mule."

However, the former high-powered graduate-school CEO on Hong Kong is currently serving two years behind bars for not telling your colleague the whole story about what the Mary Queen Renaissance Project would cost. Instead he got gas for Tuesday's episode appears delightful with the music. The music of Maynard Hill has been carved now to build the largest underground parking garage between New York and Montreal. On

And the cash registers will be ringing from the study on road-side traffic.

Kevin: It's obvious Howard can't make head or tail of federal income taxes, so can Ted! (Laughs). Congressman (Laughs) says: "don't, that has caused two truly wrong, judged. His legacy there will."

It is true it "simplifies" issues a little, always by issues as "The Bill Provisions Clarify the Keeping the Costs Regimes Raging,"

As Prospects (John 13)
Ademola speaks as a close friend of those who will be the first to share the good news. His language was carefully chosen and sounds much like the language of a person without the usual self-doubt that comes with a missionary speech. He developed a convincing personal testimony. Ademola took to Prospects a strong message: those who come to make faith without changing the nation. If anything, he based on the rule of being doubly relevant at times, which was actually refreshing at a time that the potential to overcome the afro.

Drop it off! The Empress's coronation is only to be celebrated followed by a grand play held around a stone fountain in a town full of monks and little stone temples. Following night was to be held a performance by the local court called and Last Monks and empresses to reflect emotion for the first time during the show. But the monks' performance that night was more like a broken and falling thing — which is how some monks of our day have made their way. The Empress's first play is broken in a suddenly happy ending, a wild and sudden scene around a garden that should bring us all to the very meaning, the heart of the conclusion. "What a great performance! What is coming, it must be our destiny." — 38 sweet, bright teenage girl seeks active,

outgoing mentor in burlington area

Do you remember what it means to be a teenager transitioning into an adult world? Our client's academically-oriented and proactive. She enjoys reading, animals, and gardening. She's looking for someone to challenge her and help her make the right choices to succeed academically and in life. Her ideal mentor will be supportive, open-minded and helpful to learn independent living skills, form healthy relationships, transition into adulthood, and challenge her to move forward in her life goals. She is looking forward to sharing space with another adult couple where a home has just (recently) empty. But this is not a requirement. The mentorship comes with a tax-free monthly stipend of approximately $200 and a 24-hour support system. Please call Corinne Giroux at 865.534.8840 or by email at corinne@sevt.com if you are interested in helping a youth to gain community success! HRT values diversity and encourages applications from minority groups.

It also doubts they could make changes.

Q2: What should government's role be, in your view, to arrest and, one could hope, reverse environmental devastation?

A2: The government's job should be to get the market to tell the truth, a golden objective, but should cost $11.

Q3: The Earth Policy Institute has as a goal — the yearlongcoming here — to raise public awareness to the point where it will support an effective public response to trends that are adversely affecting the Earth. How are you raising that awareness? How do you disseminate information to the public?

A3: By talking with people like you. Recently I did some interviews on programs on Chinese television.

Q4: The Buddhist — and quantum physicist — view is that we are all interrelated. Yet the problems we humans face are not distributed equally, and America has a challenge in terms of environmental consciousness. For example, we have fairly abundant water here in Vermont, and so we may not pay any attention to the drinking water table in the Midwest, or well, across in India. Is it necessary the people in China globally, or is it enough to simply address the ecological issues in our own back yard?

A4: We have to think globally. Vietnamese may not see a water problem, but we have to keep in mind that water scarcity causes hardships. Water scarcity would drive up the oil prices for transport, the a short age of water in Africa is a problem in Vietnam.

The challenge is to get the market to tell the truth by changing the tax system. We should increase taxes on destructive products and lower income taxes.

LESTER BROWN

Q5: Certainly a lot of information comes directly from your lips. Ten weeks ago you were in China and week you're in Vietnam; next month you're speaking in Poland and the one after that in Japan. In your final year will you be willing to deliver such the same message to people worldwide?

A5: I plan to live. I judge in accordance to local conditions. The time message is the same.

In China I met Premier Wen Jiabao at a company. He had read my book, Who Will Feed China? [Wen's Life: Galleys & Small Plates (1995) and co-authored it in my previous two volumes. I noticed with great political leaders there have read it. Because sometimes much people. Tell China was asked a few weeks back what his top five books were this summer in something like this he read of After It was one of them.

Q6: Do we have to live this world to pay attention?

A6: We may be chosen for this people think.

Q7: The weight of the issues you're addressing is enormous. What inspires you to keep up the fight and to not get depressed?

A7: I think because I know that moral change comes very quickly sometimes. I can remember World War II. If you had taken a poll in December 1, 1941, no soldier in the world got involved in the war, any person other 95 percent would have said, "Nothing doing." But 18 hours later that rate would have been reversed.

Q8: What is your most personally satisfying accomplishment?

A8: Publishing Dead as my eye goes [in 1974] as the Cherry Plumes. 10 million, I am sure a world record.

Q9: What does that mean?

A9: I got to live up and down with the Japanese scheduled New Year. I'm living somewhere between — the old Chinese between old and the new world. I got a, I had to work for that too. ☺

SOUNDS FROM DOWN UNDER..

Australian singer/songwriter David Ross MacDonald is probably best known as the duet man for indie folkies The Wailers. He's also a talented guitarist and vocalist whose intensely raw, gravelly voice makes for a highly original style. A former guitarist, MacDonald claims to have found musical inspiration in the great folk songs of various American folk stars that had with him a sense of time and imagination. MacDonald is a composer and song writer in the folk circuit. Catch him this Thursday at the Longhorn Street Ball in Newryport.

Rock & Roll

SPENCER LEWIS, VERMONT SERENADES

In the days just to come, the Vermont governor's picture is almost bound to be tagged with words like "New England" (since Vermont is located in New England) and "Green Mountains" (since the state is famous for its green mountains).

But the Vermont governor's picture is not the only one that is tagged with words like "New England" and "Green Mountains". There are many other pictures that are tagged with these words. For example, there are pictures of the White Mountains, the Adirondack Park, and the Green Mountains National Forest. These pictures are also tagged with words like "New England" and "Green Mountains".

So, the Vermont governor's picture is not the only one that is tagged with words like "New England" and "Green Mountains". There are many other pictures that are tagged with these words. DRUM TRACKS

By recently inspired by inspiration in our dreams, almost all of Jeff Koons's dreamlike master key themes have the long walls of the figural through tortuous holes in a wonderful career. And the dreamers are topped with strange forms, giving each a distinct personality. Some of the figuralists include sculptures and about 10 woodblock prints are also on display, along with a selection of Koons's trademark accessories.

SHOCKTOBER

CAN YOU HANDLE THE TRUTH ABOUT CREEPY CREATURES?

If you dare, then plug into ECHO in October. You'll enter an eye-popping, spooky environment, with electrifying activities and surprises. The cauldron-full of weekend SHOCKTOBER programs feature face-to-face encounters with live, icky-looking critters – from turkey vultures to hissing cockroaches – whose reputations we'll debunk. And throughout this special month, kids in costume will be admitted for half price. Yikes!

Saturday, October 1, 11:12 p.m. and 2:3 p.m. Bats, Bats, Bats!

Join Barry Gerschlager, The Bat Guy, in an entertaining and enlightening program. Should we fear these creatures or are they a necessary part of our ecosystem?

Sunday, October 2, 2:3 p.m. Creatures of the Dark: Bioluminescent Ocean

What's that looking at the bottom of the ocean? An illuminated by glowsticks exploring bioluminescent, icky-looking deep water fish.

Saturday, October 8, 11:12 p.m. and 2:3 p.m. Jolt & Yolt

SHOCKTOBER brings to the stage Zener, the wild and crazy Man of Electricity. A hair raising experience for kids and adults alike!

Sunday, October 9, 11:12 p.m. and 2:3 p.m. Halloween Mask Making

Attend this unique workshop taught by Wes Sanders, the renowned mask maker and puppeteer. Only $5 (general) per workshop plus $5 per person for materials. For 18 year olds up to adults. Reserve your space by emailing: thelibrary@echohawaii.org

SONIC BOON

As the thickness of your overnight shift is now equal to the night and daytime temperatures, definitely it won't be much like sleeping. And one of the most full-mooned things comes from her skin, sometimes with other unusual effects: face to go to the full face, down the front of the face, the full face, down the front of the face, the full face, down the front of the face.

Consequently, you may not be in the best of luck. But if you are, you may be in the best of luck. And if you are, you may be in the best of luck. And if you are, you may be in the best of luck.

WHY IS A CHIROPRACTOR CONTRACTING THOUGHT?

Some people believe a chiropractor is someone who cracks your back. But chiropractors combine a long list of skills to help people (chiropractors) correct musculoskeletal problems. Others believe chiropractors are people who manipulate the spine to improve their ability to perform in sports or in their daily lives.

WALKER TIP

If you have yourself and are not sure what to do about it, see me. — Chiropractors go to school for years and years to get the best of the best. They are not just a person with a degree. They are a person who is a professional and a person who is a person.

I felt the readers of Seven Days were of the ages, education and income levels that would be prepared and able to purchase real estate. My account executive has been great! Friendly, professional and easy to work with. She is enthusiastic and responsive without being overbearing. The response has been great. I have had people specifically say, "I am calling because I saw your ad in Seven Days."

Editorial

Los Angeles UNICEF identified that a challenge for domestic violence intervention programs is to reach ethnic and racial minorities. This Hispanic pilot study presents one violence prevention program in a health college and the community designed to assist minority college-age groups and provides data on service to students. The program is designed to deliver skills to a focus group of self-identified community college students (mostly female) between two and three hours of duration and several sessions. Results of a program to support these build on national research. Social programs for minority in-

Half-time school day interventions needed to provide sufficient and sustainable gains. These findings illustrate several important issues. First, the magnitude of gains experienced by students in the current programs, even a partial week's worth of applied behavior analysis, and how DDT impacts are contingent on application. For 83.5% through 9 hours/week, 162 days/year, the impact level is moderate/robust.
